

BR: “Inspiration to Ink: The Big Picture of How We Got the Bible” by Mike Wilson (Lee Wildman)

This is a book/workbook (125 pages) that comes with a teacher’s supplement. (56 pages) Mike covers evidences for the inspiration of scripture and how the bible has come down to us in its present form.

A retired research scientist for NASA said this about the book: “As a research scientist with more than 40 years of experience, I can attest that Mike’s research efforts are thorough and of the highest quality. This book should be in every Christian’s private library as well in all church libraries.” (Dr. David M. Cooper)

“Inspiration to Ink is a serious presentation of the external scholarly and internal Biblical materials that substantiate the trustworthiness of the text (supplemented by several lists of ‘Helpful Resources’ that are just what the name implies). And it presents those materials in a way that is both understandable and relevant.” (Don Truex)

I have recently used the book in study with our teenagers and I think it was very helpful. It helps us appreciate/value having the bible in the first place – the word of God.

The chapter/lesson topics:

Lesson 1 – God Spoke to Man

Lesson 2 – Organizing the Message

Lesson 3 – Publishing the Message

Lesson 4 – Preserving the Message

Lesson 5 – The Concept of a Book

Lesson 6 – Biblical Authority and Scribal Transmission

Lesson 7 – The Manuscripts – Can We Trust Them?

Lesson 8 – Scribal Practices of Early Christians

Lesson 9 – Witnesses to the Original Text: The Hard Evidence

Lesson 10 – Holy Scripture in the Middle Ages

Lesson 11 – Reform Movements and the Beginnings of Modern Translation

Lesson 12 – Bible Developments in English

Lesson 13 – Where We Stand Now

Published by 21st Century Christian

www.inspiration2ink.com